Our Alignment System corrects leading edge misalignment in multi-lane operations by straightening fresh or frozen food products into neat, even rows without the use of bars or other devices that may distort the product.

This system will work in hundreds of applications. It is ideal for gently realigning products being conveyed from die cutters, spiral freezers, coolers, ovens, and a large range of other equipment.

The system increases the efficiency of coating or topping machines, stackers, wrappers and other production equipment.
